The Logan Opera company concluded their Ogden engagement last evening in Bucalossi's popular comic opera, "The Three Black Manties." The piece itself is splendld and was performed in perfect harmony with the excellent music furnished by the Thatcher orchestra of the temple city. The entire cast was good and not one of the troupe can be complained of as an amateur in the-atricials. The singing by the chorus girls was far beyond the average in traveling was far beyond the average in traveling troupes. The costumes were costly and magnificent. The Logan people have made a grand success in their achievements, and had the weather been more favorable, Occepte would have turned out more liberally. However, the attendance has been very good at each performance.
